

Running a dental office... or running yourself into the ground?

If any of these sound familiar, you're not alone — and we can help.

Are you sure every dollar you earn makes it to your bank?

Revenue leaks are silent — most practices don't know they're losing money.

- Revenue leaking — charges unbilled, payments unposted
- Reconciliation gaps hiding between systems
- No clear picture of income vs. expenses
- Write-offs & adjustments never reviewed

- Hours spent pulling numbers manually
- Issues found too late — costing money, time & trust
- Chasing insurance, claims, and payments after hours
- Less chair time, more paperwork

Are you the dentist... but stuck doing admin all day?

Less chair time means less production — and more burnout.

Why is your office busy — but not profitable?

High production doesn't always mean high collections.

- No clear picture of income vs. expenses
- Relying on gut feeling or outdated reports
- No real-time visibility into performance
- Production up, collections lagging

- Patient attrition went unnoticed
- Patients leave without booking future appointments
- Provider's schedule not full or well-organized
- Recall & reactivation falling through the cracks

Are patients coming in... and quietly slipping away?

Patient attrition is invisible until it hits your bottom line.

Do small mistakes keep happening — no matter how much you train?

Your team multitasks all day. Without systems, errors repeat.

- Lab case not ready, patient already in chair
- Insurance not verified before appointment
- Payment not collected or posted wrong
- Key documents missing — consent forms, crown history

- Hours spent pulling numbers manually
- No real-time visibility into performance
- Too complicated or too expensive to get such insight
- Relying on gut feeling or outdated reports

Do you actually know where your money is leaking?

The answers are in your data — if you know where to look.
